

Satellite radio is service that really helps consumers. This traffic and weather service is perfect for someone like me who may be traveling in a strange city and not know the local traffic channel. Also, the coverage is much better since it is a channel dedicated to each area, rather than tuning to a random local channel and waiting and waiting only to find that they don't do weather.